

PROGRESS TOUR CHINA

OPEN PROGRESS TOUR

EVENTS

The Open Progress Tour is a series of level-based and progressive prize money tennis events hosted throughout the year, which are ideal for any tennis player seeking a little more from their competition. The tour seeks to provide increased playing and earning opportunities for aspiring young tennis players, as well as current and former professional players.

PLAYER ACCEPTANCE

Open to Chinese male and female players born on or before 2012.

Composition of the draws will be based on two criteria:

- i. Direct Acceptance based on first come, first served basis
- ii. Host Wild-card.

An acceptance list for each of the circuit events (including alternates), will be released on the relevant event page no later than two (2) hours after the entry deadline.

FORMAT

The Open Progress Tour events vary in format, between level-based matchplay (Battles & Shootouts) and staggered entry, progressive open prize-money events. This new and exciting format allows players of all levels to play in the same tournament and start the tournament at the appropriate level. Players are placed in the draw based on their rating, alongside players of a similar level, with higher level players start at a later stage in the same event. Best of three sets will be played with either two full or two short sets and a championship tie-breaker in the case of a third set.

EARNING OPPORTUNITIES

At The Progress Tour, we operate a series of tournaments keeping the player's best interest at the forefront. We therefore offer players the opportunity earn training and developmental opportunity, as well as prize money at our Open Progress Tour events.

PLAYER AGREEMENT

Upon entering an Open Progress Tour event, players agree to adhere to the rules and regulations of the circuit. The Progress Tour reserve the right to use still or live images of players taken from circuit and Masters events for promotional material.